Team Manitoba Indigenous Sport Development Camps

After an overwhelming request from the majority of our coaches, athletes and community members that they wanted more time together prior to NAIG 2020, we answered: Summer Development Camps!

It has been a learning curve, but with the commitment of our 2017 NAIG coaches and MASRC staff, we were able to deliver eight camps this summer. Camps included nine different sports and one very successful multi-sport camp.

These camps have given us a great foundation with our coaches and athletes. This will allow us to be increasingly more strategic with our NAIG development going forward. THANK YOU COACHES!

Summer Students: You Were Awesome!

This summer we were incredibly grateful to land Kaitlyn Ducharme once again. If you had any contact with our organization this summer, you probably interacted with our well organized, positive and “glue of the office” summer student, Kaitlyn. This is her third year working with us and we are already looking forward to next summer with her, fingers crossed.

The Bear brothers joined us this summer to help us build our organizational content. When it comes to empowering people through sport; honouring the efforts of our athletes, coaches and volunteers by telling their stories, this is one action, we are committed to. Skyler travelled around filming, capturing and editing our summer programming. Parker has been tasked with doing a nationwide comprehensive history of the NAHC tournament from inception to present. We look forward to presenting this shortly, making sure this part of Indigenous sport history does not get forgotten!
